

The background of the image is a detailed, close-up view of a wood grain. The grain is characterized by wavy, vertical lines that create a sense of depth and texture. The color palette is a range of natural wood tones, from light tan and beige to various shades of brown, including dark chocolate and near-black tones. The lighting appears to come from the side, highlighting the ridges and casting soft shadows in the valleys of the grain.

JALARAM
TIMBER DEPOT
EST. 1977